

KIDS (PICK ONE)

Corn Pops

Where are my corn pops? We are out of my Kellogg's corn pops! I can't believe you ate them all, how could you? Stay calm. All of that crunch, all of that sweet popcorn...I want them and I can't have them! Ugh! I've just gotta have my pops!

Band-Aid

Want to see the cut under my Band-Aid bandage? Mommy says to keep it covered so it will heal. Hey! Where did it go? It really was right here!

TEENS (PICK ONE)

Verizon

My parents told me they were going to take my cell phone away because I waste all of my minutes on cheap gossip with my friends. Well believe me, gossip is not cheap. It is very valuable if you use it in the right way. After much debate, and a few tears on my part, they signed up for Verizon's unlimited texting plan. I can text Jenny all the new gossip, I mean important news, any time and as much as I want. Thanks Verizon, you really know how to keep a girl connected.

Doritos

The other night I came home after a long day at school. When I walked in, my family and friends were waiting for me. They just sat there, staring at me. They were there for an intervention. I mean, I know that I have a problem. I just can't help myself. I am OBSESSED. I try to think about anything else. But I just can't....Doritos...once you start, you can't stop.

ADULTS (PICK ONE)

7-11

So it's 2:00 in the morning...and you're starving. Nothin' in the fridge, and nothin' in the cupboards. You don't even have dog biscuits hangin' around. You think about cooking, but then you remember the 3-alarm fire you started last time you tried using the stove. Well, check out 7-11. There's gotta be one right near ya'. They have everything from burgers to tacos...24 hours a day...7 days a week. 7-11. Think of it as your own personal walk-in kitchen.
